Welcome aboard the Lady Florence

Welcome to our new newsletter from Lady Florence, full of all the latest news, adventures from the river and exclusive offers.

We aim to keep you up-to-date with everything going on at the Lady Florence and hopefully tempt you on board to enjoy a fresh trip on the calm waters of the Alde and Ore with our new crew.

Craig takes over the Helm at Lady Florence

Let's start with some BIG NEWS. John and Sue have recently stepped aside from the day-to-day running of Lady Flo and have handed the wheel over to family member Craig. Craig has worked on the Lady Florence and South African sister-ship Allen Gardiner for years but has now given up the South African sun to become a permanent fixture onboard the Lady Florence. Craig will be introducing some exciting new innovations and menu ideas as the months roll on so check our regular emails to keep up.

John and Sue will still be actively involved on a part time basis.

Hot Summer Guaranteed..... (Almost)

Locals say that if the wind has blown in the East for more than 2 weeks it will be a "HOT" summer! Good news then, because standing on deck of the Lady Florence we've noticed the wind coming in from the East, which is a very good sign for the summer to come!

South African wines arriving just in time for Summer!

Just in time for a hot Summer, our latest selection of South African wines are due to arrive shortly and can be enjoyed onboard the Lady Florence throughout Spring and Summer. As usual you can expect only the finest selection and while John and Sue may have left Craig to the running of Lady Florence, wine-tasting duties have remained firmly in their very experienced hands.

Some exciting News?

There has been some excited whispers about a new boat coming to join the Lady Florence in Suffolk... the exact details aren't quite clear and, of course, we couldn't possibly comment on such rumours.
